-Javi: Today is Wednesday, midweek, and we start with everything. We have a lot to tell you in this programme. To cheer up the afternoon a little more we are listening to Twenty One Pilots "Stressed Out" in the background

-Adrián: What a song, huh? Now we are going with a small cut. We'll be right back. Don't leave us.

Advertising

-Adrián: We continue with more interesting things in "Blyats". Now we are going to tell you the most absurd headlines of this Wednesday, January 30.

-Javi: Like this one: "Vaibhav Bedi sued the Axe Company for deceptive advertising" Apparently Vaibhav Bedi, says that for seven years he has been using Axe brand products, which claim in their advertising campaigns that "attract women."

Bedi stated that no woman has agreed to go out and have a cup of tea with him. He even related that one of his friends attacked him with a broom while trying to impress her, after he left the bathroom totally naked and seconds after having used the products of the Axe brand.

Bedi finally demanded a millionaire compensation for the psychological damages that this has caused him and for a deep depression in which he finds himself.

Adrián: Or this other one: "In the United Kingdom the police is searching a man who ate the seat of a bus"

A man who escaped after having literally devoured the seat of a local bus, before the eyes of all passengers is being sought in the United Kingdom.

The event was recorded by a bus surveillance camera. According to the witnesses, the dark-haired man remained calm in his seat for twenty minutes.

Then he began his feast, chewed on the seat and carried a bottle of water that was supposed to accompany the menu. The police claim that the damages caused are just over $ 300.

Javi: Wow, that's what it's like to be hungry. Well, today's program is running out and to say goodbye we'll show you this incredible news." A plane had to be pushed by passengers in Russia". The passengers of a regional flight in Siberia were ready to take off when, by order of the pilot, they had to get off the plane, which weighs more than 50 tons, and push it. It turns out that in the last few hours it had been so cold that the wheels had been stuck to the track and there was no way to move the device. The 70 travelers, mostly workers in the area, took it with humor and the plane, thanks to their help, finally took off.

Adrián: Thanks to everyone for following us on social networks, today we add 10,000 followers on Instagram.

Javi: It has been all for today, thanks mate, thanks to the audience for tuning us today, we will meet again tomorrow at 6pm!
