

Hello, today I'm going to talk about the climate change. The climate change it is a serious problem that our planet is suffering. This problem started 180 years ago from the industrial revolution. It is important to realize about this situation, there are some problems of the climate change: temperatures rise, appear new pandemics, more dangerous storms and hurricanes, disappearance of some flora and fauna, the poles melting, more droughts etc.

Some people think that the climate change will not affect you because they say " Nothing happens the earth will die sooner or later", "We die of somethings", "What does it matter if the sun is going to explode", but it is not true because the climate change it affect us more than we think because It is just around the corner. The poles are melting and the ocean rises and starts to flood many islands, the drinking water is running out, the CO2 is increasing a lot and more things. It is so sad the person think the climate change is fake or it doesn't matter and makes me angry.

Something that we do are Sustainable travel: public transport,, use of the bicycle, skateboard, walking or trying to buy hybrid or electric cars and for longer trips, opt for use the train, recycle everything we use the plastic in the yellow container, the organic thing in the brown or green container depende of the city, the paper and cardboard in the blue container, the crystal in the green container, the mask and gloves and remains in the grey container, batteries in a special container, used oil in a special container, clothing also has a specific one and medicine in a specific clear point in the pharmacy. We can also buy minus clothes or buy second-hand clothes. Try to reduce the plastic as much as possible. Use minus the electricity and use the light of the sun. Reduce the water bottle and use a filter to use tap water. We can all contribute our grain of sand.

They are some people fighting against climate change Greta Thumber, Emma Watson animate to the people use second hand clothes, Leonardo DiCaprio has his own foundation, Alejandro Sand and Green

Pace, Sting fight against deforestation of the Amazon and protection of the natives. Macaco remembers that there is no planet B "

I have chosen this theme to try to realize about this problem but I know that I will not change the people 's opinions and I hope this podcast makes you think about this problem and thank you for listening.
